BLACK ELECTED MINDEN VOTES MONDAY

MINDEN NOMINATION MEETING

A large number of Ratepayers of Anson, Hindon and Minden Townships gathered in the Council Chambers at Minden on Friday, afternoon last for the purpose of selecting a Reeve, Council and School Board.

The following were nominated:—
FOR REEVE—

Nominee	Mover	Seconder
REGINALD BOOTH	K. Currie	W. Coneybeare
LAWRENCE PRITCHARD	Dr. Jamieson	J. O. Jackson
LEN BATES	J. O. Jackson	J. Earl Hewitt

FOR COUNCIL—

Nominee	Mover	Seconder
DR. A. L. JAMIESON	J. E. Hewitt	Ken. Currie
W. CONEYBEARE	K. Currie	J. E. Hewitt
KENNETH CURRIE	W. Coneybeare	J. B. Lister
FRANK WELCH	Reg. Booth	J. H. Smith
PERCY BURKE	Frank Welch	Vinton Loucks
ALEX HEWITT	Albert Harrison	Ross Harrison
JOHN M. IRWIN	J. O. Jackson	E. Hewitt

FOR SCHOOL BOARD—

Nominee	Mover	Seconder
MRS. MAE MACARTHUR	Irene Moore	Edna Trumbull
MRS. JAMES FAIRFIELD	Mrs. MacArthur	Lydia Coulter
JOHN O. JACKSON	Jas. H. Smith	A. R. Moore
H. ALLISON BAKER	T. Brignall	Everett Blair
THOMAS BRIGNALL	Lorne Coburn	J. M. Irwin

After Nominations were closed Reg. Booth proposed that Mr Fred Wright act as chairman, this was seconded by T. Brignall. Mr Wright expressed his pleasure at the large number present and called as the next speaker last years Reeve, Mr. Reg Booth.

Mr Booth thanked last years council for their splendid cooperation. He admitted the Council made some mistakes but on the whole a good job had been done. He drew that attend of the ratepayers that the Road By-law had been set at $20,000 another $4,000 had been secured and then another $2,000, making the total By-law $26,000. Crushed rock had been placed on many of the Township roads and he said that the Ingoldsby road had been much improved. The County Building, said the speaker has received government approval and contract would soon be let. The Reeve also stated that a Health Unit had been established in the Township.

In referring to the rebuilding of the Community Centre the speaker said that the cost of this project would cost the ratepayers about 25c on each $100.00 assessment and that he felt this was small compared to the business and pleasure that could be derived from the arena.

Mr Ken Currie the next speaker said that he had served one year on the Council and had enjoyed it. The business of the Council had been in the opinion of the speaker, very ably administered and he drew to the attention of those present that the municipality was growing quite rapidly and the growth of the tourist business was that in his opinion it was better to concentrate on one section making a good job on it and that by this system, eventually, the Township would have much improved roads.

Mr Coneybeare stated that he had enjoyed serving on last years Council and if again elected he promised to serve to the best of his ability.

Mr Percy Burke of Lochlin said that it had been a great experience to have served on the Council and wished that more people had the opportunity of serving on municipal bodies and they then would appreciate the problems that face members of Councils and School Boards.

Dr A. L. Jamieson was the next speaker and the Doctor said that in her opinion everyone should render some public service and that if she were elected to Council she would do all in her power for the betterment of the Municipality.

Mr Irwin declared that a story, being circulated in certain quarters, which would not only do himself much harm but the building of the Community Arena. The said story was to the effect that he had been handed a considerable amount of money to see that certain parties got the rebuilding contract. There was not one iota of truth in this story said the speaker. Mr Irwin said that those who would serve the public should not resort to making or circulating such malicious propaganda.

DYSART ELECTIONS

The voters of Dysart turned out in large numbers on Monday and re-elected Harold Black as Reeve by a large majority. In a close contest that attracted more interest than usual A. H. (Bert) Curry was elected deputy reeve. Roy Brohm, a newcomer to the Municipal field led the poll for Councilors with Carl V. Hussey and Holly Sisson rolling up impressive votes for the other two seats on the Council.

Lawrence Pritchard had no criticism to offer regarding the work of the Council and thanked those who had proposed his name for the Reeveship but stated that owing to personal reasons he could not stand. Mr Pritchard said he felt that a statement should be made by the school board regarding the contractor who left debts in excess of what had been held back.

Mr Len Bates, nominee for the Reeveship, was the next speaker and said that this was a new field to him but if he stood and should be elected that ratepayers could be assured that he would do what he considered would be best for the municipality.

Mr Alex Hewitt, of Carnarvon, who was the next speaker, said that if elected, he would do the best of his ability for the betterment of the municipality.

Mr Brignall speaking on school affairs said the contractor who made the additions to the school had gone, as he termed it, financially haywire and that while $3,000.00 had been held back, debts incurred were $7,000.00.

Mrs. Fairfield, who had been nominated for school trustee, said she thought that women through the experience gained in running the home could make a worthwhile contribution to municipal and school affairs.

WEST GUILFORD

The election of officers in L.O.B.A. No. 1224 took place on Friday, Nov. 16th with the following officers elected:

Worthy Mistress, Mrs. Margaret Sisson; Deputy Mistress, Mrs. Ida McGuire; Junior Deputy Mistress, Mrs. Marjorie Bagshaw; Recording Secretary, Miss Grace Hellema; Financial Secretary, Mrs. Katy Thompson; Treasurer, Mrs. Norma Sisson; Chaplain, Mrs. Geraldine Carr; Guardian, Mr. Gerald Clendinning; First Lecturer, Mrs. Joy Fielding; Second Lecturer, Mrs. Eva Sisson; Inner Guard, Mr. Les. McGuire; Outer Guard, Mr. Holly Sisson; Director of Economics, Mrs. Sylvia Sisson.

Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Grenville Stamp on the birth of a son at Haliburton Red Cross Hospital.

Mr and Mrs Ron Sisson and daughter of Toronto were weekend visitors at Mr Andy Sissons.

Mr and Mrs Don Sisson and Brent of Oshawa are spending a few days at Mr Owen Simms.

The L.O.B.A. 1357 held a successful dance last Friday in the Village Hall.

Mr. Chas. Weir Addresses Various Organizations

The citizens of Dysart were honored last week when Mr Charles Weir, District Representative of the Department of Education, Community Programmes Branch, Toronto, visited the town. Mr Weir was in the village to address various organizations in the Dysart Recreation Centre setup. On Thursday Miss Orr was at the Haliburton High School to address the students. All the students of the school were rallied together in one room for a talk from 3:30 to 9 p.m. In the evening Mr Weir gave a very interesting talk on education and recreation to the Haliburton Rotary Club. Miss Orr instructed a gathering of 200 in the Community Hall in the evening. Recreation director Jack MacLaughlin was right on his toes and had his group in on all the activities. Games of all sorts were played with the instructors joining in to make in a great success. The Recreation Club had the Rotary P.A. system set up and records were played for the dancing and also for the special folk dances. We are sorry to report that the turnout from the High School wasn't as large as expected. The citizens of the Municipality of Dysart will welcome back Mr Weir and Miss Orr at any time.

Tractors Stolen

We have been informed that several tractors have been stolen in the last few weeks and it is suspected that they might be peddled in his section of the Province. If you are approached by an outside salesman who has farm tractors for sale at a bargain you had better investigate before investing. Better play safe and buy from your local agent.

Haliburton Man Rushed To Lindsay Hospital

Mr Vivian Silver was rushed to the O.R.S. Memorial Hospital in the early hours of Tuesday morning when he suffered a recurrence of a stomach ailment. Mr Silver has been operated on and at time of going to press we are informed that he is doing as well as can be expected.

Arnold Roberts In Peterboro Hospital

We learn that Mr Arnold Roberts who is at present in a Peterborough Hospital is making satisfactory progress and it is expected that he will be able to return home this week end.

Former Minden Resident Passes

Word has just been received of the death of Minnie Graham, wife of John O. Graham of Minnedosa, Manitoba, formerly of Minden.

The late Mrs. Graham has one sister, Mrs. Wm. aBry of Minden and Mrs. John H. Graham of Lindsay surviving besides her immediate family.

Dr. H. P. Bishop Retires As President Of Legion

It's the election of officers this Friday night at the Haliburton Legion Hall. All positions are being contested and enthusiasm is running high on the eve of the election. The previous president, Dr. H. P. Bishop is retiring after two years of good service rendered to the local branch. Yes this Friday night is election night at the local Branch of the Canadian Legion and all members are asked to attend. Speaking of the Legion we would like to announce that they will be having a Christmas bingo for turkeys on Thursday, December 20th. The bingo will be held in the Haliburton Community Hall and the feature attraction of the bingo will be a draw for a complete dinner basket for eight people with a huge turkey in the centre of it. You can't afford to miss this bingo being sponsored by the Haliburton branch of the Canadian Legion. The date is Thursday, December 20th.

Stan Sawyer In Haliburton Hospital

We are sorry to report this week that Stan Sawyer of Haliburton is in the Hospital due to an injury he received last week. It seems that on Wednesday of last week Mr. Sawyer was working in the bush at Kenosis when a tree fell on him. He was rushed to the Haliburton Red Cross Hospital and was rendered unconscious for a period of four days. He is still in the hospital at Haliburton and latest reports say that he is doing as well as can be expected.

Harry Lauder Struck By Car

The Main street of Haliburton was the scene of an accident on Saturday night last when Harry Lauder of Haliburton was struck by a car. Mr Lauder stepped off the curb onto the highway between the Central office and Chambers Motors and walked right into the side of a car driven by Earle Austin also of Haliburton. The front right hand fender caught Mr. Lauder sending him to the pavement. Passers by immediately got him to his feet and rushed him to the Hospital. It was later revealed that he had a broken leg. Provincial Constable Langton of Haliburton investigated.

Mark Schell Has Accident

An accident occurred on the highway coming into Haliburton on Friday night last when the car owned by Mark Schell of Haliburton went off the highway and landed on its side near the railroad tracks. Wallace Little, a brother-in-law of Mark Schell was coming into Haliburton and had his wife and four children in the car at the time of the accident. The highway was very slippery and it was very foggy at the time. He met an oncoming car in front of Bob Bannons house and the driver of the other car refused to dim his lights and when Little applied the brakes the car spun around over the small bank and landed on its side. No one was injured and Provincial Constable Langton investigated.

Sorry Folks

We regret that the demand for the Echo last week was considerably above what we were able to supply. We expect to have more copies printed next week and this will eliminate the shortage. Annual Bazaar At West Guilford

Once again the ladies of the Community Guild held their annual bazaar. A fine display of needle work was displayed as well as assorted pastry. A fish pond was operated by Mrs. Ross Pritchard and tea and sandwiches were served by Mrs. Ben Varty and Mrs. Roy Hellems. All the members cooperated to help make the bazaar the success that it turned out to be.

Auction Sale

Don't forget the auction sale that is being held in the Town Hall, Minden, on Saturday, Dec. 22nd at 1:30 p.m. Among the articles to be sold are refrigerator, radio, two table lamps, one load of wood and one Black Spaniel puppy. Entire proceeds go to the Community Centre.

West Guilford Church Supper A Success

A very successful pot luck supper was held in the basement of the Anglican Church in West Guilford by the ladies of the congregation last Saturday evening. Among those who attended from Haliburton were Mr and Mrs Bert Curry, Mr Lou Consley, Mr and Mrs Wes Baker and Mr and Mrs A. J. RaRue. Maple Lake was well represented and the local people certainly did their part in contributing to and helping with the supper. The ladies were complimented on their delicious food and although the diners were left in total darkness for a few minutes everyone enjoyed themselves. It is hoped that entertainments may be equally successful.

ACCLAMATION

Reginald Booth was returned by acclamation as Reeve of the Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden at the Nomination Meeting held at Minden Town Hall on Friday, November 30th. This will be Mr. Booth's second term as Reeve of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

Card Of Thanks

I wish to express my sincere gratitude to my neighbours and friends for their great kindness to me in my hour of trial.

Wheat King — Holding a sheaf of his prize-winning Marquis Wheat, world's champion wheat king, 21 year-old Howard Roppel of Rockyford, Alta., wears his crown of victory over last year's winner, 13-year-old Rickey Sharpe, Howard will have his name engraved on the Canadian National Railways' giant wheat trophy which he won in competition at the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair. At presentation ceremonies he received an engraved silver tray and a cheque for $100.

SPORTS & A SIXBIT CRITIC

The Greeks had a word for it. The word was "athlete" and its original meaning was "one who competes for a prize." And in the early days that prize consisted of a whole lot of applause and a small but tasty wreath of laurel.

At the start those Grecian runners, jumpers, wrestlers and so forth felt themselves well rewarded with such prizes. But after a while one of the boys—we suspect he was a wrestler, but neither his name or trade have come down to us—began to talk to himself, and his fellow-athletes, something like as follows:

"We gotta admit that all this applause is mighty pleasant to the ears and those wreaths look very distinguished. Still, when you come right down to it, three rousing cheers aren't nearly as thirst-quenching as a couple scuttles of the brew, and chew them how you will those laurel leaves will never take the place of a platter of ham-and-eggs as a steady diet." (You will understand, we hope, this is a free—very free—translation.)

Anyway, five centuries before the very first Christmas, those Greek athletes were taking it in cash. Amateurism was dead, and sports competition was almost entirely among professionals. And more and more it begins to look as though practically all sports competition, especially in the United States, is among professionals as well. Some of them take it openly; some under the table. But about the only real amateurs left are those who aren't good enough to demand pay, or who compete in sports where there isn't any gate.

Here in Canada, our college athletics have kept free—or fairly free—from the smears that are blackening the face of college sport south of the border. Not, perhaps, as free as the outsider might think; but still, not so bad. And it is to be hoped that the heads of our universities and colleges—the heads, we said, not the coaches—are fully aware of what is going on in the States, where the whole structure of college sport is shaking to its very foundation.

Down in "the greatest nation on the face of the earth" college athletics is a multi-million dollar business with much fake-professionalism. For decades it has been common knowledge that many college athletes are compensated for playing—in tuition, board, "expense money," and so on. The condition has been brought about, it is generally believed, by these influences: the demands of alumni, who want alma mater to win; the profits from "big-time" college sports, which help pay for minor sports and balance college budgets; college administrators' belief that winning teams attract students.

Twice this year the United States has been shocked by disclosures of dishonesty in connection with sports on the college level. First came the revelation that basketball players for several New York City and Midwestern colleges took bribes to "fix" games for professional gamblers. Then came the revelation that most of the West Point football team had conspired to cheat on examinations to avoid flunking out.

A couple of weeks ago the situation was documented further. In New York Judge Saul Streit sentenced a gambler (Salvatore Solazzo) and five former basketball players to jail for bribery and gave nine other players suspended sentences. Before passing sentence, Judge Streit said that his investigations had produced these case histories on some of the players:

Player No. 1 graduated 638th in high school class of 816, with average of 70.43. Was scouted by New York University, then by City College of New York. Records at City College now show high school average of 75.5. "This discrepancy has never been explained," Judge Streit said.

Player No. 2 was recruited by C. C.N.Y. High school marks were "too low" and he was "ineligible for admission". Was admitted, however, and C.C.N.Y. files now show "10-point discrepancy" from high school records and "signs of alteration."

Player No. 3 was scouted for Long Island University, offered "tuition", a room, books, four meal books a week, valued at $5 each, and a job. Was not required to work at job, got $5 or $10 a week extra for "good athletic performance."

Judge Streit said it was up to the colleges to rid themselves of the "evil of commercialism and over-emphasis." There were quick rebuttals from some campuses. Clair Bee, basketball coach at L.I.U., said "I would do it the same way again . . . The subsidization of players—that's traditional."

Other officials acknowledged that the college should do something. C.C.N.Y. acted promptly; it is a municipal, tuitionless college where enrolment is limited and competitive, and where scholastic standards are unusually high. The college announced that athletic policy would be changed for a "return to amateur sports." It acknowledged that there had been falsification of basketball players' scholastic records, and investigations are under way.

The Streit findings coincided with a meeting in Washington of a committee of ten university presidents set up by the American Council on Education to study college athletic problems in the light of the recent scandals. On Tuesday the committee agreed that as a first step "all responsibility" for the conduct of college sports should be assumed by college presidents—as opposed, mainly, to alumni.

Altogether, it is a sorry situation and we in Canada would do well to see that our own house is in order. When a university coach is more widely known and better paid than a professor or president, there's danger in the offing.

Got A Skeleton In Your Bathroom?

Possibly there may be two or even three skeletons. They may not rattle, but they may be there. Because the bathroom sponge is a skeleton.

Once it was part of an animal that lived and breathed and had skin, flesh, and it even had a liquid that passes for blood.

Twenty thousand different types of sponge exist in the world, but only sixteen have skeletons that can be used in the bathroom. They live in sea water and often attach themselves to rocks on the sea bed. When gathered they are offensive-smelling masses of substance resembling rubber, and they vary in color from a greyish yellow to dark brown or black.

Sponge-fishing is carried out in many parts of the world, but the most valuable sponges come from Cyprus and islands of the eastern Mediterranean.

The season lasts from June to September.

Operating in tiny caiques from the port of Kyrenia, the chief centre of Cyprus's rich sponge-fishing industry, the divers don crude diving masks and slip over the side with a weight in their hands. This quickly drags them down to the sea bed.

So that they can signal to the crew above, each diver has a life-line, which he tugs if anything goes wrong.

Having reached the sea bed, about 40 fathoms down, the diver crawls over it, every now and then grabbing a sponge and placing it in a net which billows out behind him.

The raw sponges are spread out on the deck and beaten with sticks. Then they are trampled on, the crew using their bare feet. Gradually the tissues and the skin come away from the skeleton and after repeated washings in the sea the skeletons are strung up on strings about six feet long and trailed in the water over the vessel's side.

GOD'S INTEREST IN MAN

Man is no stranger to God. But God is a stranger to many men and women. Why? Perhaps it's because God seems disinterested, far off and indifferent to what becomes of us. How often do we hear—"Why doesn't God stop wars?" Or again, "Why doesn't God make people good?" These questions trouble the minds of those who know neither God nor man.

Man is no stranger to God. God pursues man. He has been called—"The Hound of Heaven." And God's interest and concern for the family of man is revealed in what He has done for man.

Foolishly, man in Adam broke off friendship with God. But God taking the long view, with an eye to unborn generations, selected the Jews as an officer's training corps. Through His appointed teachers, the Prophets, the Jews came to know much about God. Proper conduct was explained to them. And they were led to cultivate God's friendship through sacrificial worship.

In the fullness of time the last of the Prophets was born—John the Baptist. He announces a new era that began with the birth of Christ. The Jews had been prepared for this moment. From now on God through Christ, would include the world in His special interest. To the ends of the earth and to the end of time God would pursue man. For His officers, the Apostles, were to train others as He had trained them. They were to teach His will and convey His help to all the world till its end. This is Christ's Church. No, God has not forgotten man. And the Catholic Church has much more to say about—"The Hound of Heaven."

This is one of a series of messages by Father V. McGivney, Parish Priest, St. Francis Parish, Pickering, Ont.

Small Gifts Are Most Expected, Well Appreciated

BY EDNA MILES

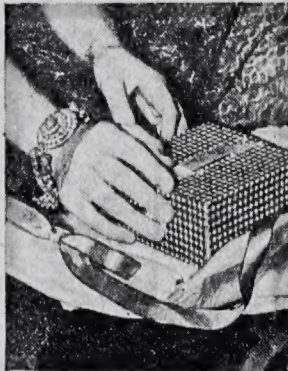

THE sugar plums that dance through the heads of most women hopefully awaiting Christmas are not, in a majority of cases, mink coats and Cadillacs. Usually dreams are more scaled to everyday reality.

Nonetheless, there are few women who aren't wishing that life will be just a trifle more luxurious once Santa's visit is over, who aren't longing secretly for the small niceties that they never quite get around to buying for themselves.

Such gifts are abundant this year. Fine gestures needn't wreck your budget. If you can't afford to present a dress or suit bearing the label of a famous French designer, a gift of fine dusting powder from his salon is just as likely to bring a thrilled start of recognition. One firm, well-known in the fashion and beauty world, offers this season a large box of elegantly-scented powder, handsomely packaged in eye-catching hound's tooth tweed.

Jewelry gifts are a good idea for putting stars in her eyes on Christmas morning, and for adding sparkle to her appearance the remainder of the year. Choose delicately-wrought pieces set with brilliant rhinestones.

An excellent choice for the woman who has everything is an evening purse, which you may select from the many exquisite materials and designs offered for holiday shoppers. Rich bemberg brocades, deep-piled velvets, gold-tooled feather-weight leathers—any of these are worthy offerings.

For the woman on your list who appreciates practicality as well as beauty, a moire cosmetic case stocked with a purse-sized brush and comb, is sure to please, and will serve as a daily reminder of your thoughtfulness for months to come.

Evening purse of sumptuous brocade makes any woman feel treasured; gifts of dainty jewelry, finely-wrought, gives similar feeling of elegance.

beans, cabbage growing exceedingly well; pease of all sorts and the best in the world."

In these practical garden patches sweet alyssum and candy-tuft, poppies, blue-eyed grass grey among currant and gooseberry bushes. There were peas and sweet peas and Johnny-jump-ups, sweet William with its "homely cottage smell," daffodils and bouncing bet, pinks, marigolds, and hollyhocks. They were all plants brought from home.

If you have a Cape Cod garden, it is pleasant to return some of the old-fashioned plants to their old homes. Some of them have persisted around the old house sites, and you can often tell where a house once stood, even when the foundations are hidden, by a huge lilac bush, or a bunch of flowering currants, or old-fashioned bayberry. There will be flowers too, a patch of uncared-for pinks, particularly a beautiful dark blue columbine, a clump of blue-eyed grass, yellow day lilies, roses, and a lovely old-fashioned daffodil, pure white, double and heavily scented. Tangled among trees and bushes there are likely to be wild grapes which make a delicious sharp-flavored jelly. And you may even find a quince tree or a couple of pear trees.—From "Down Cape Cod," by Katherine Dos Passos and Edith Shay.

Hounds of Mercy

At the Hospice of St. Bernard, nestled in the snows more than 8,000 feet above the valleys of the Swiss Alps, the priests still tell the story of their patron saint, Arch-deacon Bernard de Menthon.

Ten centuries ago, when a few mountain passes were the only exits from Switzerland to Italy, weary, Rome-bound pilgrims often fell prey to highwaymen, cold, and hunger. To help them, Bernard built a hospice at the summit of Jupiter Mountain. There they could find food and rest, and that rejuvenation of spirit which would speed them on their pilgrimage refreshed.

As word of the mountain sanctuary spread across Europe, more and more travellers sought its shelter. It was then that the great-hearted and sad-eyed dogs for which the hospice is still renowned made their appearance. In sub-zero weather and across deep snow slides, they roamed over crags and into valleys, seeking lost and numbed wayfarers. Through the years, countless lives were saved by the courage, resourcefulness, and gentleness of the dog that came to be known as the St. Bernard.

Modern inventions have lessened the rescue work of these hounds of heaven, but they still patrol the Alps, ready to answer a call.

Cape Cod Gardens

There are plenty of large formal gardens on Cape Cod, but the true Cape Cod garden is small and simple, and bears a distinctly sympathetic relation to the small house. It looks its best behind a low picket fence, or tucked in against box or privet, and it has an old-fashioned air, though the kinds of plants have changed and a great many of the early favorites have been replaced with new varieties.

The old garden was for use. It had its origin in the kitchen garden of the British Isles, and most of the old favorites were either carried over from England or sent for later. The garden usually extended from the kitchen and it was a cozy, utilitarian mixture of flowers, vegetables and herbs. The vegetables were essential, the herbs were useful and pretty and many had flowers as well as taste, and some of the flowers were useful too.

Says John Josselyn in 1672 of the old gardens: they had "goode store of garden vegetables and herbs, lettuce, sorrel, parsley, mallows, chevril, summer savory, winter savory, thyme, sage, carrots, parsnips, beets, radishes, purslain, summer loss. Force drying, longer field curing and occasional temperature checks can help reduce these fires. If a thermometer thrust deep into hay for 15 minutes climbs to 158 degrees, keep careful watch. At 185 degrees stop ventilation and start moving hay outdoors. If it hits 212 degrees, call the fire department, you're in trouble.

Moses' Charge to the People
Deuteronomy 30:15-31:3. 33:27-29a

Memory Selection: The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms.—Deut. 33:27a.

Moses is usually regarded as the greatest man of Old Testament history. He mediated the giving of the law and he led his people from bondage to the land of promise. There is pathos in the fact that he was denied the privilege of leading them into the good land. But Moses had failed at Meribah. The people "angered him also at the waters of strife, so that it went ill with Moses for their sakes; because they provoked his spirit, so that he spake unadvisedly with his lips," Ps. 106:32-33. The account is found in Numbers 20:7-13. Men in high places must govern their spirit. They cannot afford to "fly off." "He that is slow to anger is better than the mighty; and he that ruleth his spirit than he that taketh a city," Prov. 16:32.

Moses reviewed the law and urged the people to take the good way. To love God and keep His Commandments would bring blessing. To disobey God would bring the curse of God. Moses designated Joshua as his successor. Then he pronounced a blessing upon each of the twelve tribes. Before he closed this memorable address he made a statement that has brought comfort to millions. "The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms." Then Moses went up alone to the top of Mount Pisgah in the land of Moab. There he viewed the land. He was one hundred and twenty years old. His eye was not dim nor his natural force abated. He died and God buried him. No one ever knew the place of his sepulchre. Thus ended the career of God's great warrior, statesman, prophet. His influence lives on for good.

THE FARM FRONT

Warnings about the dangers of fires on the farm are nothing new in this column. Still, as my Scottish grandmother used to say, "The heed that ye took yesterday winna keep ye safe today." So here is some more about this vital subject, largely borrowed from an article entitled, "It's Always Farm-Fire Season," written by H. L. Tinley which appeared in the October issue of Country Gentleman.

November through March are the months of heavy loss in dwellings. Chimneys in one way or another cause a big share of these fires. The chimney that sooner or later leads to trouble is the one built from a bracket instead of being built on a firm foundation from the ground up. Over the years brackets sag, mortar crumbles and the liner cracks. Then sparks sift out and trouble starts.

There are many other causes of chimney fire. Take the farmer who wallpapered over a metal flue stop in a moment of thoughtlessness. Five years later, rain and moisture rusted the stop and the only thing between chimney and the room was wallpaper. It was just a question of time until flame shot through the flue opening, setting the paper on fire. Fortunately it happened one night at dinner and the family was able to put out the fire with little damage.

Faulty wiring causes about as many home fires as chimneys, especially now that farm families are buying more and more appliances. A new television set was the straw that broke the back of 35-year-old wiring in the dwelling of one farmer. Fifteen minutes after he plugged in the new set, smoke began drifting out around the nail holding up his grandfather's picture. When he lifted the picture, plaster fell and a three-foot tongue of smoke and flame shot into the room. Within five minutes the entire house was ablaze.

Appliances had been forcing the single circuit of the old house to carry a load far beyond that contemplated when it was installed in 1916. It took heavier and heavier fuses to carry the load, until eventually the fuses were stronger than the wiring. As a result the house became something like an electric toaster and it took the television set to burn the toast with red-hot wires.

Liquid petroleum gases can present another dwelling hazard. Heavier than air, these gases work to the lowest level in a room or basement. Propane and butane are difficult to detect and heavy concentrations can be built up ready for ignition. Tubing and joints used on gas bottles leading to stoves, water heaters and other appliances should be carefully guarded and serviced.

Summer fires are more difficult to check. Lightning, the greatest hazard, is erratic and has been known to kill one man while only knocking the cigar out of the mouth of the man standing next to him. A cow being milked by an Iowa farmer was killed by lightning without injury to the milker.

Properly installed lightning rods will prevent electrical-storm damage in nine strikes out of ten. Metal-covered buildings and wire fences act as magnets for lightning and once they have attracted it, they can't get rid of the charge unless properly grounded. Charges travel along ungrounded fences and can kill cattle half a mile distant if they have moved to the wire while drifting before a storm.

Spontaneous combustion in haymows is another cause of heavy

Inspector Dadson Addresses Commencement

Community Hall Full To Capacity
The Haliburton Community Hall was filled to Capacity last Friday evening, November 30th when the High School held their Annual Commencement Exercise. The chairman, Mr. A. Stouffer, B.A., Public School Inspector was introduced by Mr G. H. Thayer, Principal.

The Programme

The concert opened with a very popular and much enjoyed piano solo, the "Glow Worm" played by Jacqueline Robertson. Then followed a French play "Le Bruit Court" (Rumour Spreads). This amusing one-act play describes how the rumour of the illness of a small town French mayor ends in tales of his death. When the town Council meets to choose his successor, in walks the mayor as hale and hearty as could be.

The dances, by the girls, included the Blue Danube Waltz, a gypsy dance and an Eighteenth Century dance. The costumes were very colourful and effective and the young students formed a very picturesque groupings. A vocal duet, "A Perfect Day" sung by sisters, No. vine and Janet Woodcock was most pleasing and effective in its close harmony and the rendering received a good ovation.

Acts from Shakespeare included the "Witches Scene" and the "Sleep Walking Scene" from "Macbeth", the Trial of Katharine of Aragon (Henry VIII) and a tableau "All the Worlds a Stage" from "As You Like It". This last named selection being in a lighter view was without doubt the most popular of the Shakespearian items. However, the students are to be congratulated on their acting and performing scenes from Shakespeare which is not an easy task for many a seasoned actor.

The Speeches

The Valedictory address was given by Wendell Sedgwick of last years Grade XIII. Wendell spoke of the school and recalled his happy experiences of his senior year. This was followed by the presentation of the five dollar prize for the best Armistice Day essay, Dr. Harry Bishop, President of the Haliburton Legion presented the cheque to Shirley Cooper of Grade JII.

The Field Day Sports Trophies given by Haliburton Rotary were presented to Jack Roberts and Eunice Newbatt, both of Eagle Lake by Mr Harold Black, President of the Rotary Club.

Main Address

The main address of the evening was given by Mr. D. F. Dadson, B.A., High School Inspector. Mr. Dadson, very kindly travelled from Toronto to be present at the Commencement Concert. The speaker went to the Old Testament for a very fitting subject for his address. He read verse seven of the 15th chapter of the Book of Exodus, "Thou shalt bring them in and plant them in the mountain of thine inheritance." He spoke to the students of their highland inheritance and challenged them to treasure and covett and advance that heritage through study and culture. In his speech, he cleverly and amusingly traced the history of the Haliburton area from Pre-Glacial times. He introduced many amusing jokes and anecdotes of the life the life in this region in bygone adys. He mentioned too, how Champlain himself described the Haliburton Highlands as a pleasant hunting and fishing centre frequented by savage Indians. Apparently, even in those adys, the area was an attractive hunting and fishing ground. Mr Dadson expressed a visit that he hoped that the new High School, when it was built, would be in keeping with the wonderful natural beauty of the area and built of local stone and local timber.

Certificates Awarded

Victor Shaver, Vice Chairman of the High School Board then presented the Intermediate Certificates to Janet Woodcock, Jim Pearson, Joyce Austin, Grace Forbes, Patsy Bishop, Murray Fry, Phyllis Newbatt and Marelyn Sisson.

Finally the chairman of the Board Mr. Cecil Irwin, B.Sc., then presented the Honour Graduation Diplomas to Keith Howly and Jean Webb and the Honour Diplomas to Wendell Sedgwick, Bessie Lee and Curry Bishop.

Concert At Lochlin

In looking over the calendar we find that it won't be too long before Santa Claus will be coming to town. But before Santa pays his regular yearly visit we are now awaiting the annual Christmas Concerts. The first concert on the list will be held at Lochlin on December the 21st. This concert will have everything to please the audience. Featured will be recitations, plays and songs.

Th admission will be adults 35 and children 20. Keep this date in mind and everyone is invited to attend.

TREASURERS' REPORT

To: The Reeve, Councillors and Ratepayers,
The Municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden,
MINDEN, Ontario.

TREASURER'S REPORT AT NOMINATION — NOVEMBER 30, 1951

Gentlemen:

The following details and figures are given for your information so that you might judge for yourself the financial position of your Municipality. Townships are not supposed to be in a profit making business but should be governed accordingly by efficient methods with a view of creating at least a small surplus at the end of the year's operations.

PARTICULARS OF RECEIPTS AND ACCOUNTS DUE

1950 Taxes collected in 1951	$ 5550 00
1951 Taxes collected to date	20000 00
1950 Arrears and previous transferred to County Treasurer under Section 129 of the Assessment Act $5,250.00 of which there has been paid to Municipality	2326 00
Taxes transferred to County Treas. for Tax Sale	650 00
Received from Province of Ontario, Balance 1950 Road Sub.	4328 00
Received from Province of Ontario 1951 Interim Road Sub.	11372 00

DETAILS OF EXPENDITURES AND BILLS PAYABLE

1951 Road Pay Roll No's. 1 to 10, PAID	$ 23110 00
Due County High School	2310 00
Due School Area Board	1080 00
Bank Loans	5000 00

During the Year Total Loans borrowed from the Bank amounted to $20,000.00 of which $15,000.00 has been paid. At this date the Municipality has a credit Balance at the Bank of $8,500.00.

PARTICULARS OF DEBENTURE ISSUES

Debenture	Outstanding	Mature
Union School	6131.	1955
School Area Board	31352.	1965
Telephone	9186.	1960
Recreation	14903.	1969
Telephone	5810.	1959

Although the Outstanding Debentures add up to a considerable amount it must be pointed out that Maturities are spread over a period of 12 years and that each issue is self supporting with the exception of Schools. The taxpayers are fortunate in this connection as indicated by the 1951 Tax bills of 1½ mills for Debentures. In 1945 a rate of 15 mills was required to meet a single Debenture issue of $15,000.00 on the Union School. The present low rate is due to the high Subsidies paid to the local School Boards by the Province of Ontario which is approximately 90 per cent and about the highest in the Province.

The Treasurer understands that the Department of Municipal Affairs has without undue hesitation authorized a Debenture Issue of $10,000.00 if required, to reconstruct the Recreation Centre. If the payments on this issue are spread over a period of 15 years, it would require about 2½ mills only on the present total assessment or 25 cents on each $100 individual assessment. As the population increases it naturally follows that the total assessment of the Municipality follows suit and the mill rate thereby decreases to meet the fixed charge of approximately $960.00 per annum for amortization and interest over the 15 years existence of the Debenture.

BY NEON

Rain played havoc around the Minden Centre the past couple of days with machinery, etc., mired in mud and the truckers who are whipping the lumber in having a difficult time trying to find a place to dump their loads. However Wednesday sunshine prevailed and things brightened up considerably with news the gang of construction men would be in Town and expected construction will be under way by Press time so all that is needed now is a little more of that Wednesday weather.

The Mink Coat arrangement continues to top the limelight with Peterboro, Orillia and Oshawa broadcasting stations beating out the news to far and wide and with these in charge covering the main hockey games in the District with their salesladies selling those ducats while the Mink coat is being modelled to the enjoyment and the dreams of the spectators. Let me tell you the lady who manages to get that winning number will really have something that she can treasure and wear for a long time.

Wasn't it a Canadian Mink that the people of Canada gave to Princess Elizabeth? Now let's get our tickets folks.

Arrangement have already been made for the Bracebridge Hockey Tournament on Friday, December 14th with teams competing from Parry Sound, MacTier, Huntsville, Bracebridge, Gravenhurst and Minden. All proceeds to the Minden Community Centre and your admission, one ticket on the fur coat purchased at the box office. This is another big night for the Centre so let's everybody get behind and put it over. You with a car arrange your load in advance and see if we can't put Haliburton County in Bracebridge December 14th. Anyone unable to arrange transportation, Alger Bus Lines will have their streamliner in Minden leaving at 6 p.m. We have word from Mac Alger the transportation will be a donation to the Minden Community Centre. Can you beat that?

And let's not forget all those teams competing in Bracebridge will be the same teams feeling themselves out that will be in active competition when the Northern O.H.A. schedule is drawn up and under way.

Have you forwarded your used articles for the grand auction to be held on Saturday, December 22nd? Apparently if you have an old radio, washing machine, cord of wood anything that has been taking up space around the house folks and that is still useful, let's have it or notify Mrs. C. Brandon or Mrs. Muriel Welch or L. A. Pritchard, they will arrange to pick it up if its too heavy to lug yourselves.

L. A. Pritchard we hear has a number of items already for auction and although maybe you don't know it but L. A. has one beautiful Gilson refrigerator to help out the cause and anyone wanting a nice brand new refrigerator get out their and do your bidding. Who put of the refrigerator? Well don't be surprised if it doesn't turn out to be L. A. himself.

Apparently the Muskies go on in their winning ways and keeping tab on the Lindsay Junior, however from all reports they following is starting to shed their interest. That isn't at all surprising to yours truly however I never expected Burns and Co. would drop down to a mere 200 or less so soon. You can't carry O.H.A. hockey clubs on those kind of houses. If Lindsay are interested in continuing in Intermediate hockey they should get out and give those fellows a break and not break them.

There is no doubt there will be an eight team league lined up for the Northern League with either South River or Powassan taking the Orillia Flyers spot, Orillia the only Senior B entry in this group last year are now grouped with Collingwood, Midland, Newmarket and Stouffville. That will only leave Parry Sound in the Northern O.H.A. playing on a bye into the Intermediate A play offs with all the other clubs strictly Intermediate B, so it will likely be a fight right to the wire and from reports on the other clubs this year they have all strengthened themselves considerably to make things look like a closer race than even last.

Word should be through any day now for the Monarch Executive to attend the Annual meeting in Bracebridge and draw up the schedule and apparently the executive are going after as many double schedules as they can get. Even with the Huskies riding the hockey trail again the Monarchs are still looking forward to the arrangements made for opening their schedule in Haliburton.

This coming month is really going to be a busy one for one and all and after all that only means 30 odd days and there is an awful lot that can be done in that period of time and an awful lot that going to be done in the same period. Lets all put our shoulders to the wheel. The more shoulders, citizens, citizens, maybe the less days it will take.

Fur Coat

The Minden Recreation Club are going all out in an effort to sell tickets on their $1500.00 fur coat. Tickets are now on sale throughout the County and for the small fee of $1.00 you can buy yourself a chance on this beautiful coat that any woman would be glad to own. The Minden Club aren't passing up an opportunity to sell these tickets. On Friday night last seventeen young girls from Minden were transported to Peterborough to sell tickets at the hockey game played in the civic arena. The hockey game featured the two Peterboro clubs, the Eagles and the Petes between periods a girl on skates circled the ice surface with the fur coat on while the Minden girls sold the tickets. You can't afford to pass this up so get your tickets today. Yes any woman would be proud to own this beautiful fur coat.

Come To The Fair

A Frosty Fair is being held in the basement of St. George's Anglican Church on Friday evening, December 7th at 8 p.m. Under the auspices of the Guild of Friendship. Among the things that will be offered for sale are fancy work, handicraft, touch and take, candy and home-baking.

Frank Andison Skips Rink At Lindsay

Last Wednesday, the Haliburton Legion were represented at the Legion zone curling tournament held at the Pell Street Curling Arena in Lindsay. The local rink motored to the big town to compete in the I. R. Moore Curling event. The Haliburton rink consisted of Skip Frank Andison, Vice Skip Lloyd Coneybeare, Second Stone Jack Glazebrook and First Stone Bert Howe. This was a one day tournament with each club represented playing three games. The tournament was open to all Legion branches in the zone. The Haliburton rink skipped by Frank Andison took the first game by the score of 10 to 6 and lost the other two by very close margins. They were defeated by Fenelon Falls 12 to 10 and by Brechin 10 to 9. On the two games they lost the final end in each case decided the winner. This was really good when you take into consideration that this was the first time that Frank Andison had skipped a rink. Congratulations to the Legion Curling rink for a grand try. Better luck next time boys.

Ab Larue Busy At Haliburton Arena

The Haliburton Community Arena is receiving a face lifting this week with the new caretaker, Albert Larue right on the job. Mr. Larue and his assistant, Mr. Salvatori have been very busy this week cleaning the inside and putting some paint on wherever it is needed. On Monday they painted the doors on the front entrance a white colour and when finished it will look very attractive. If the new caretaker keeps this good work up the arena will be in good shape for the opening game. Flooding has been brought to a halt since the warm weather set in. But it won't be long now before the arena will be open.

Jack Hunter Appointed Curling Club Caretaker

Mr Jack Hunter of Haliburton was appointed the 1951-52 caretaker of the Haliburton Curling Arena. The Minden Curling Club will play their games and bonspiels at Haliburton this coming season. Herb Baker, the local hockey flash who will be out with the Huskies this season is expected to work for the Department of Highways this winter. It is rumored that the Haliburton Citizens band will play at the hockey games at the Community Arena this season. They will also be out for the annual skating carnival. The schedule for the Haliburton Community Arena will be announced at a later date. The Rocket Ramsbottom is back at the Forestry School according to latest reports received at the Echo office. Tenders for the booth concession at the Haliburton arena are now out. It is expected that Jerry Gartland will be back in the nets for the Minden Monarchs this season. Time now to give all you can to the Minden Recreation rebuilding fund. Yes, it's hockey time once again.

Minden To Curl At Haliburton

The Curling season is on again in Haliburton. The Haliburton Curling Club are looking forward to a bigger and better season. The first meeting of the new season was held on Nov. 29th with a splendid turnout. It was decided upon at this meeting that Jack Hunter be the caretaker for the 1951-52 season. It was also decided that the Minden Curling Club would the opportunity to curl in the Haliburton Curling Arena this season.

The Minden Club will curl on Thursday nights until such time as the Minden Recreation Centre is ready again. The Haliburton schedule will be drawn up on Dec. 13th at the Curling Arena.

County Sports Extras!

At a meeting of the Haliburton Community Hall and Park Board held at Haliburton on Friday night last it was decided that the Minden Monarchs hockey club could play their home games in the Haliburton Community Arena this coming winter. It was also decided that the Minden Skating club would also have the opportunity to skate on the Haliburton ice this winter. This is a move in the right direction and one that should bring the two neighbouring villages closer together. For the Haliburton Community Arena it means a very busy season and one that should be a paying one in the end. There is no use of having the arena sitting up there being idle. And this season it will be a very good idea to have it going full swing all the time. Yes there will be lots of skating, plenty of hockey and lots of excitement in this 1951-52 season. Open up the door Ab, there's winter sports in the air.

There seems to be lot of talk in Haliburton County hockey circles about the Northern Hockey League. It seems now that all the villages are in favour of the league going into operation again this season. The big draw back seems to be a couple of good men with lots of drive to work at this league and put it over. No doubt this league is in very poor shape at present time and it needs some one to really put it over. From all reports the Wiberforce club will be out this season because they are trying to put an entry in the Ontario Rural Hockey Association. Haliburton can ice a team this season and there is strong talk to the effect that Eagle Lake and West Guilford will band together and have one club. There is also a rumor to the effect that Tory Hill and Gooderham will go together and come up with a club. Minden could also be invited to enter the loop and it would be a four team set up. Yest there's hockey in the air and there is still hope that the Northern Hockey League will operate again this season.

At the last meeting held by the Haliburton Curling Club it was decided that they would invite the Minden Club to play in the Curling arena at Haliburton this winter. The Curling club at Minden were left homeless when the roof fell in here a few weeks back. The Minden club held their annual meeting a week ago and the rinks were selected for the coming season. The Haliburton Curling Arena will also be a hive of activity this year.

There's a big hockey game coming up in Bracebridge in the very near future. Most of the teams in the big eight O.H.A. league will participate and each team will play twenty minute periods. It will be in the form of a tournament, with the best team coming out on top. It's your chance to see all this years clubs in action and also to see how each will shape up this season. And oh yes, here comes the all important part. All proceeds will go toward the Minden Recreation Centre rebuilding fund. A game that you won't want to miss.

Tickets are now on sale for the Mink coat, buy a ticket today. It's your chance on this coat for $1.00. The value of this Mink coat is $2500.00.

Work is now underway for the rebuilding of the Minden Recreation Centre and this comes as good news to all.

There is still time to give to the Glen Dart Memorial Fund. Send your money into Jack Austin at Haliburton, Ontario.

ROTARY

HALIBURTON

The speaker at last week's Rotary meeting held at the Legion Hall, Haliburton was Mr. Charles Weir of the Community Program Branch of the Department of Education, Toronto. His assistant, Miss Orr, spoke to the students of the High School during the Thursday afternoon. Mr. Weir spoke to the Rotarians about the organization and work of the relatively new Community Branch of the Education Department. He stated that the branch covers and caters for many aspects of community life in the Province of Ontario. The Branch helps to carry on work in adult education, dramatics and even puppetry. It also helps classes in their needs for audio and visual aids, and advises on recreational and physical activities. Any community desirous of pursuing any of these classes or meeting will find ready help from this Branch. Mr. Weir was introduced by Mr. Glen Austin and a vote of thanks was proposed by Mr. Alvin Kaye, of Donald.

MINDEN

December finds Chas. (Slim) Brandon as program chairman and for the first meeting we had Mason Horner, lawyer of Cannington and who for the last year or more has been a Juvenile Court Judge for the County of Ontario.

Judge Horner gave us a very informative talk on Juvenile Court work and the type of youngster that comes before him. Court proceedings are carried on as informally as possible in a room furnished more as an office than a court. Of those that appear before him, 10 per cent are subnormal, 40 per cent are of normal intelligence and the other 50 per cent even higher.

While he cited a case of an incorrigible child coming from what should be the best home, they mostly spring from homes where there is parental irresponsibility, tension and desertion. Every avenue is explored to get these children on the right track and only in extreme cases are they placed in training schools. While by no means, always he feels that in some instances the shorter work week and more leisure time leads to trouble.

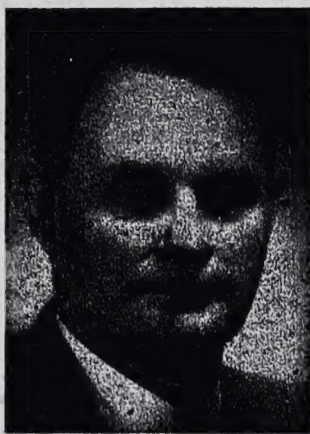

—Thos. W. Brignall.

To the Electors of ANSON, HINDON & MINDEN

Having had two years' experience on your Council, I would ask your support in again giving me the opportunity to serve you. I promise you my very best endeavours.

The Elections Meant Business

First of all, let me thank you each and every one for the wonderful support you gave our good friend, Leslie Frost. This mandate sends him back to Toronto with the definite assurance that the people of Ontario appreciate the service he has been rendering and that he has the wholehearted co-operation of his many friends of Victoria and Haliburton.

Political landslides are becoming a commonplace event for Canadians. They don't seem to be so popular in Britain. When the St. Laurent Government swept in with 72 per cent of the Commons membership it followed the pattern cut by Quebec's Duplessis the year before when knight opposition candidates only survived. The Frost victory with 79 out of 90 seats in Ontario followed suit last week. Scarcely had the Ontario returns been tabulated when the Smallwood Government romped home with only a token opposition left in the new Province of Newfoundland.

George Drew, speaking in the House on Tuesday, stated that the Government had overtaxed every man, woman and child in Canada to the extent of $43.00 each in the first six months of this fiscal year. In a short, sharp, Commons attack on the Government's budgetary policies, he said that came about because finance Minister Abbott had been so grossly in error in his estimate of his budgetary surplus.

Mr. Abbott had estimated in his last budget that the surplus for the current fiscal year, which ends March 31st next, will be $30,000,000.00. Yet, at the end of only six months it touched $600,000,000.00. If it continues to accumulate at that rate, the Minister will have guessed wrong by 40 times.

And Austin Cross of the Press Gallery, who is considered an ardent Liberal, writes an article in the December issue of "New Liberty" magazine on this same subject which is well worth reading.

George Drew and the Conservative party received the following telegram from Colonel R. A. Baker, Chairman of the National Council of Veterans Association:—

"From a meeting of the National Council of Veteran Associations held today I have pleasure in forwarding the following message (stop) On behalf of Disabled Veterans in receipt of War Disability Compensation together with their dependents and widows we wish to thank you and the members of your party for the support which you gave in the House of Commons for the more adequate rates of War Disability Compensation and Allowance for dependents through the Canadian Pension Act."

A Prisoner Gets Some Favors

The controversy over the German general, Kurt Meyer, has aroused a good deal of concern and some spirited debate on Parliament Hill. When he was convicted by a Canadian military tribunal after the war and sentenced to imprisonment for life he was incarcerated in a New Brunswick penitentiary. A few weeks ago he was flown to a prison in Germany and now a Canadian newspaper correspondent who went to interview his wife over there found him home on a visit. There have been some unconfirmed stories around to the effect that he may be released to join the German forces contemplated in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization under General Eisenhower. That would seem to be pure speculation. Meanwhile, the Canadian Legion and others are demanding that he serve his given sentence for crimes committed against Canadian soldiers during the war. Hot words passed in the Commons over the issue. War veteran George Cruickshank referred to the General as a "rat".

ARE WE MISSING THE BOAT?

IN LOOKING OVER other newspapers we note that a good many other towns and villages are having Santa Claus Parades, of all the popular people the most liked and loved old St. Nick has it over every one else like a tent. The Santa Parade in Toronto was a bigger attraction than the Royal Visit and some small villages have staged Santa Claus Parades and have had as high as five thousand visitors. Yes the business people are sponsoring these parades in more localities every year. Well maybe Minden or Haliburton will be hosts to Santa and his many admirers when next year rolls around.

LOCAL JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

IN THE RECENT ELECTION meeting at the Community Hall, Haliburton, many people present were quite concerned when they heard of the continuous damage done to street lights in the locality. The smashing of electric light bulbs continues in spite of their continued replacement. The damage was most prevalent in the neighbourhood of Eagle Lake.

Mr. Lester Walling, Member of the Public School Board, in his speech discussed the benefits of education in training the child and in his behaviour. Juvenile delinquency is a phrase much in use since the last war. Perhaps a more familiar phrase to use is "naughty children" because that is exactly what Juvenile Delinquency means.

Though the schools and the school teachers can do much to improve the child's behaviour and stimulate his social conscience, the real and more intimate place of correction is the child's home. There is much to be said for the old adage "Spare the Rod and Spoil the Child."

Leon Jones is still confined to bed due to a bone injury of the week before. Since Leon is one of our most enthusiastic hockey-players, we wish him a speedy recovery.

The ladies of the Community Guild held their Annual Bazaar in the auditorium of the school here on Saturday afternoon. They had a fine display of needle work, pastries and novelties. They served tea and sandwiches and had a very successful afternoon.

On Saturday evening the ladies of the Anglican Church held a pot luck supper in the church basement. Everyone enjoyed themselves in spite of minor mishaps which left the diners in darkness for a few minutes. The ladies were complimented on their delicious supper both by our local residents and visitors from Haliburton and Maple Lake.

Mr. Andy Sisson who is now stationed at Kingston spent the week end with his wife and family.

Misses Aldyth Sisson and Evelyn Cooper and Mr. Bernard Sisson were visitors from Toronto over the week end.

Bill Smith of Hillcrest Haven spent the week end with his wife and son.

High School News

Commencement Exercise

Last Friday night the High School held their Annual Commencement Exercise. The Community Hall, Haliburton, was filled to capacity. The first part of the programme consisted of a piano solo, a song duet, a French play, "Ye Brut Coeur" and selections from some of Shakespeare's plays. The second half consisted of speeches and prize giving. The main address was given by Mr. A. Dawson, High School Inspector of the Department of Education, Toronto. A most enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Community Programme Visitor

Miss Orr, of the Community Programme Branch of the Department of Education, Toronto, visited the High School last Thursday afternoon and addressed the students on the importance of social etiquette, politeness and manners. In a light and spirited speech Miss Orr emphasised the importance of these graces in our lives and how much easier it was to get on with people if one adopted and practised these social rules of good behaviour. Miss Orr was accompanied in her visit to Haliburton by her senior, Mr. Charles Weir. They conducted a community meeting and dance in the Community Hall that evening, which proved quite popular and successful.

Christmas Examinations

Now that December is here and the end of the term is not too far away, our thoughts fly to examinations. There commences on Wednesday, Dec. 19th. School then breaks up for the Christmas holidays, on the Friday, December 21.

Letters to the Editor

The Editor,
The Haliburton County Echo,
Dear Sir:

May I, through the medium of your newspaper, extend our thanks to you and to the citizens of Haliburton County for the generous response to our Poppy Fund Appeal. Our records show the 1951 drive just completed to be the most successful in our history.

It has always been our contention that an appeal such as ours deserves the most widespread support of our citizens. All money contributed locally is spent locally to the advantage of needy Veterans and their families. It is our hope that the response to future appeals will receive your continuing and ever increasing support.

I would like to point out to all our citizens that the Haliburton Branch of the Canadian Legion will continue to work hard for the Veterans of this County whether they be Legion Members or not. Often times, through our connection with the Legion Service Bureau and the Department of Veterans Affairs, we are able to speed justice in the way of Pension consideration and payments to veterans, and we maintain an office for that purpose. Our past successes in this work lead us to believe that we can do an invaluable job for our Veterans. Should any of you know — or hear of — a Veteran or Veteran's family in need of help or advice, we urge you to contact our Legion Branch in Haliburton.

In closing may I, on behalf of Branch No. 129, Canadian Legion, and all County Veterans, express our deep appreciation for your support.

—Frank Anderson.

Stanhope Nominations

The Township of Stanhope held their nomination meeting on Friday Nov. 30th in the Council Chambers. While the turn out was not large a good meeting was held which the Council and School Board were nominated to contest their seats for the coming year. Reeve C. P. Rogers was chosen without apprehension so he will lead the Council for another year and the old Councillors and one new one were nominated. The election will be for Councillors only as the same School Trustees were returned by acclamation. The work of the past year was briefly but ably outlined by the Reeve and the Chairman of the School Board, Charles Skelding. Financial Reports were good and showed both Council and School Board economically sound. Progress has been made and more progressive projects are well under way. Councillor and Trustees were called upon to say a few words which they did with marked intellect which proved their ability to act as public servants. Harold Burton, Thomas Kenny, John Morrison and Gordon Sawyer, old Councillors and Alf Jones will contest for the four seats in the Council while Charles Skelding, Milton Pawson, Norman Wallace, Gordon Carr and Bill Male will remain on the School Board. Mr Cecil Irwin also gave an enlightening address on the High School programme.

Bible Society Ready To Canvass

Once again the Haliburton Branch of the British and Foreign Bible Society is preparing for its annual canvass to raise funds for new translations of the Bible Scriptures below cost price to the blind, and to needy people on mission fields of all denominations throughout the world.

We wish to express our thanks for your generous contribution to last years canvass in which this district raised over $300.00 for the work of the Society. We trust that we may have your continued support in our efforts to pass this objective for 1951.

The canvassers will call at your home within the next few days. You can assist them by having your contribution ready in advance.

Keystone of Main Street

The towns of Canada are pleasant places. Our town has a character all its own . . . but any Canadian feels at home here.

There's our bank, for instance . . . a branch of The Commerce. You'll find one in most towns. And there's our bank manager. He's a professional man. He's learned from many towns like ours. So he knows how to give the kind of service that comes only with long acquaintance.

Yes, our Canadian towns are pleasant places . . . and the men and women at your Commerce branch are good people to know.

ANNE HIRST

Your Family Counselor

The plight of the wife who is married to an older man and misses the good times she used to have, has aroused other readers to alarm. I quote two of them:

"Please let me tell that 'Disappointed Wife' that the grass on the other side of the fence is not greener," warns one. "I have been there. There are ten times as many rocks, and thorns, and many more times the heartache."

"I am 28, mother of two children. My husband is only four years older, but he is a fireside-and-slipper guy, too. Most men are, no matter how carefree they seem before they marry."

"NO FLIRTATIONS!"

"Tell her not to start the flirtation she contemplates. That only ends in more heartache, and the loss of everything you hold dear. If it had not been for God's mercies, I would be on the outside looking in. If she will pray for help, she will find all the contentment she has lost."

Another reader adds:

"I married an older man, too. But in all these 16 years, we have been as happy in each other's companionship as when we first married. I did not expect the courtship days to last a lifetime, and neither should she. Marriage is a give-and-take proposition; you get out of it exactly what you put in."

"As to being tied down (if you call it tied) I find my five children a constant source of satisfaction and love and amusement. Besides, children are our God-given responsibility, to bring up in the way God would have us to. It is at times confining, true; but I never feel tied down."

"With a husband and family to care for, 'Disappointed' should have little time to think of having an affair with another man!"

"First, she should pray for God's forgiveness, if she knows how to pray. Secondly, she should ask her husband's, for the wrong she is doing him. If she would go to church regularly, attend all the meetings and take an active part in them, she would employ her time gainfully—besides starting her youngsters in the way they should go."

"I do hope she will not do anything foolish, but keep her conscience clean so she can look her husband and family in the face without shame."

"This letter is from a woman whose husband is 20 years older than she is—and who considers herself fortunate."

To "ONE WHO UNDERSTANDS" and "FORTUNATE"

* When a wife puts everything she has into marriage, she gets it back a hundredfold. But when she thinks only of her own desires, she is bound to be discontented, for she cheats her husband and her children of the unselfish love and companionship they have the right to expect. * If she did not intend to carry to carry out her responsibilities, she should never have married. * Thank you both, warmly, for your interest. The experience of others who have faced the same problems often carries more weight, I believe, than any warning I can offer. * This wife needs to know what other wives, in the same circumstances, think of her. Let us all hope she takes your letters to heart.

All last week I was hoping against hope to pay a visit to the Royal Winter Fair—and every day that possibility grew dimmer and dimmer. How could I leave home when we had a bricklayer here rebuilding our huge kitchen chimney, and or course having his dinners here. Partner couldn't be around all the time—he was too busy at the barn—so I had to be on call to give any information that was required. That was from Monday to Friday inclusive... and then came the clearing up. Partner had the scaffolding and a pile of sooty bricks to cart away while I had dust and smuts to contend with in the house. But, after giving the order over a year ago, we at last have a chimney that doesn't let in daylight through the bricks and doesn't puff out smoke every few minutes if a west wind is blowing. That has been happening for years. But our new chimney is quite a bit higher than the old one so it doesn't catch the down-draught from the main roof of the house. On Saturday, while there was still plenty to do, along came Bob. The remainder of the lumber was moved in a hurry—and then we went to the big Fair, taking two of our neighbours along with us. Partner did not want to go so we left him to enjoy his hockey broadcast.

From the Fair I phoned Daughter—to discover that she had been trying to get my by long distance all afternoon. Partner's brother Colin was at her house, en-route for the farm. It all fitted in nicely like pieces of jig-saw puzzle. We collected Colin after the Fair and brought him home with us. But it could so easily have happened otherwise. Even if Daughter had not been speaking to me Colin intended coming out on the midnight train. Neither of them remembered that on Saturdays there is no 'midnight train'!

We had a grant time at the Royal—walked miles looking at horses, cattle, pigs, sheep and poultry. Friends of ours from Montreal were showing eight head of beef cattle so we had a visit with them—but we steered clear of the huge bull that they were prettying up for the show ring. As we walked through the barns we wondered how many millions of dollars were there on the hoof. The sum total must have been colossal. In the Jersey barn a little boy, probably about five, came running up to us, "Look," he said, "there's a baby calf over there—just 15 minutes old... and down there there's four more babies, all in one pen." We were amused... the little boy was so excited and wanted everyone to see what he had seen. And the calves were certainly cute enough to please anyone—just as cute as the little Ayrshire that was born in our own barn last night.

The horses were grand. Now that we work only with tractors, trucks, combines and balers it was nice to walk through the stables and to realize that horses did still exist. We were conscious of a slight nostalgia for the good old farming days when farming was a way of living rather than a way to make a living, which was more or less incidental. How we used to love our horses. I don't see how anyone can become really attached to a tractor—not in the way one gets attached to a team of horses. And yet, loving horses, we must still work with tractors... for us there is no other way.

The commercial exhibits were interesting—if only as a demonstration of the ease with which one can spend money! The mechanized chick feeder left me cold... a slow, automatic self-feeding trough. When I raise chicks I enjoy watching and feeding them. I like to get acquainted with my little biddies. And they with me. I like to have them come running directly I come within sight and sound.

But there was one gadget that was entirely to my liking—an electric egg-washer. Eggs are placed in a huge wire basket and the basket set in a special metal tub. And then a spray of detergent water is turned on—and presto! The eggs are clean. Any one who has spent hours cleaning eggs will agree that this method of handling them is a great improvement. I have always understood that eggs should not be washed, but apparently times have changed again. Now if you have the right equipment, use the right detergent, have water at the right temperature, and can afford to buy this gadget, then it's all right to wash eggs. But we have only 50 pullets so, for the present, I'll stay with the steel wool!

Fruit Bread — made with New Fast DRY Yeast!

● Don't let old-fashioned, quick-spoiling yeast cramp your baking style! Get in a month's supply of new Fleischmann's Fast Rising Dry Yeast—it keeps full-strength, fast-acting till the moment you bake! Needs no refrigeration! Bake these Knobby Fruit Loaves for a special treat!

KNOBLY FRUIT LOAVES

● Scald 1 1/2 c. milk, 2/3 c. granulated sugar, 2 tps. salt and 1/2 c. shortening; cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile, measure into a large bowl 2/3 c. lukewarm water, 3 tps. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 3 envelopes Fleischmann's Fast Rising Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well.

Add lukewarm milk mixture and stir in 2 well-beaten eggs, 1/4 c. maraschino cherry syrup and 1 tsp. almond extract. Stir in 4 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat until smooth. Work in 2 c. seedless raisins, 1 c. currants, 1 c. chopped candied peels, 1 c. sliced maraschino cherries and 1 c. broken walnuts. Work in 3/4 c. (about) once-sifted bread flour. Knead on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl and grease top of dough. Cover and set in a warm place, free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough, turn out on lightly-floured board and divide into 4 equal portions; cut each portion into 20 equal-sized pieces; knead each piece into a smooth round ball. Arrange 10 small balls in each of 4 greased loaf pans (4 1/2" x 8 1/2") and grease tops. Arrange remaining balls on top of those in pans and grease tops. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Bake in moderate oven, 350°, about 1 hour, covering with brown paper after first 1/2 hour. Spread cold loaves with icing. Yield—4 loaves. Note: The 4 portions of dough may be shaped into loaves to fit pans, instead of being divided into the small pieces that produce knobby loaves.

"Time Marches On" may be an accurate enough statement most of the year; but with the approach of the festive season it seems as though "flies" would be more appropriate than "marches." So without further ado, let's get on to the subject of that turkey.

First of all a chart that may help you in the selection of your bird, and another showing approximate cooking times.

TURKEY BUYING GUIDE

How They Come	Market Weight	Amount to Allow Per Serving
Dressed: bled, picked, but not drawn, head and feet on.	4 to 30 pounds	$\frac{3}{4}$ to 1 pound
Ready-to-cook: picked, fully drawn, head and feet removed. May be fresh or frozen.	3 to 25 pounds	$\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ pound
Live	$4\frac{1}{2}$ to 32 pounds	1 to $1\frac{1}{4}$ pounds

ROASTING TIME FOR YOUNG TURKEYS

Set oven for moderately low, 325 degrees F.

Dressed Weight	Ready-to-Cook Weight	Approximate Time
4-9 pounds	3-7 pounds	2-3 hours
9-14 pounds	7-11 pounds	3-4 hours
14-19 pounds	11-15 pounds	4-5 hours
19-25 pounds	15-20 pounds	5-6 hours
25-30 pounds	20-25 pounds	6-7 hours

To Prepare Turkey for Roasting

Remove pin feathers with tweezers or catch them between thumb and paring knife. Singe the bird if hairs and feathers are hard to remove. Take out bits of lung and kidney from the inside. Cut out oil sac from the top of tail. Wash inside and out with cold water and dry. Store fresh turkey in refrigerator until cooking time. Wrap loosely in waxed paper.

Thaw frozen turkey in refrigerator. Allow about 2 days for large bird; 12 to 15 hours for small or half turkeys; 3 to 9 hours for parts. Cook frozen turkey immediately after thawing.

To Stuff Whole Turkey

Allow about 1 cup of stuffing per pound of ready-to-cook turkey, or $\frac{3}{4}$ cup per pound, dressed weight. A pound loaf of white bread makes about 2 quarts of $\frac{1}{2}$ -inch cubes. Use bread 2 or 3 days old. Pack stuffing loosely. Fill neck cavity; fasten neck skin to back. Fill body cavity; sew up. Tie legs to tail; place wings akimbo.

To Roast Turkey

(See chart for roasting time)

Place, breast up, on a flat or V-shaped rack in an open roaster. (For extra crisp, tender skin, cover turkey completely with cheesecloth dipped in melted, unsalted fat.) Baste frequently with drippings. Turkey is done when joints move easily. Plan to have turkey done 15 to 30 minutes before serving time. This will allow time to remove strings, make the gravy, arrange the turkey on the platter, and garnish it.

Giblets

Cook giblets immediately after cleaning. Cover gizzard and heart with water, add 1 teaspoon salt, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper, 1 small onion, and a bay leaf, if desired. Simmer 2 to 3 hours or until tender. Cut liver in half; add last $\frac{1}{2}$ hour. Refrigerate unless used immediately. Giblets may be chopped and added to stuffing or gravy, or dice them, heat in gravy, and serve as a luncheon dish.

Cook the neck about $1\frac{1}{2}$ hours in salted water to cover. An average size neck yields about $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups meat to use in creamed dishes or sandwich fillings.

Bread Stuffing

- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup butter or margarine
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped celery (stalk and leaves)
- 3 to 4 quarts bread crumbs or cubes
- 1 tablespoon salt
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon pepper
- 2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
- Giblets, cooked and chopped

Milk or stock from giblets, if desired

Melt butter in a skillet. Add onions and celery and cook over low heat until onions and celery are soft, stirring occasionally. Add remaining ingredients. Pour over bread and toss lightly. If a moist dressing is desired, add milk, or stock from giblets.

This makes enough stuffing for a 12 to 16-pound turkey.

P.S. for a richer stuffing, increase the amount of butter.

Prune and Nut Stuffing

- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup butter or margarine
- $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups chopped walnuts or pecans
- 4 teaspoons salt
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon pepper
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon nutmeg
- 2 to 3 quarts bread crumbs or cubes
- 3 cups chopped prunes

Melt butter in a skillet. Add nuts and cook over low heat, until light brown, stirring frequently. Add salt, pepper, and nutmeg and stir well. Combine bread and prunes. Add nut mixture and mix well. If a more moist stuffing is desired, add liquid from the prunes. Enough for a 12 to 16-pound turkey.

P.S. To prepare prunes: Cover 3 cups prunes with boiling water. Let stand 5 minutes. Remove pits; cut the pulp into small pieces.

Giblet Gravy

- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup fat from roast turkey
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup flour
- Liquid from roast turkey
- Milk
- Chopped, cooked turkey giblets
- Salt and pepper to taste

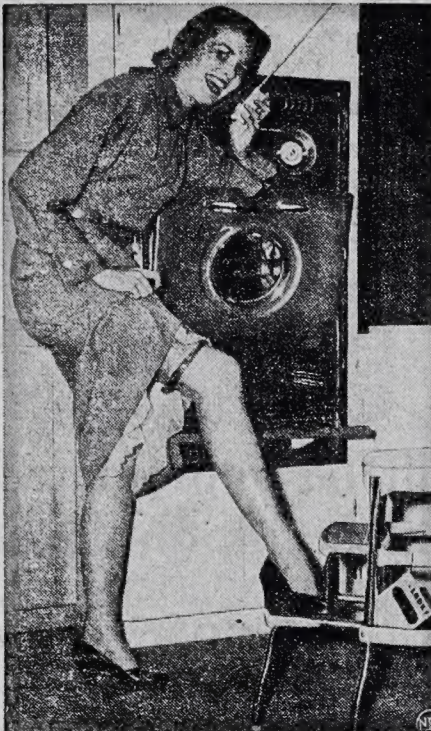

When turkey is done, remove from roaster to a platter and keep in a warm place on the range.

Pour off fat from the liquid in roaster. Measure one-third cup fat and put in skillet or saucepan. Blend in flour. Measure liquid from the turkey remaining in the roaster. Add sufficient milk to make 3 cups liquid. Return milk mixture to the roaster and place over low heat to loosen all the browned juices from sides and bottom of roaster. Now stir into the flour mixture, and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Add giblets, salt, and pepper. Heat to boiling. Makes about 4 cups.

P.S. If a thicker gravy is desired, add more fat and flour in equal amounts.

No, Comrade! It Wasn't Marconi

Fifty-six years after the alleged discovery, the U.S.S.R. are claiming the glory of having produced the inventor of wireless telegraphy.

This claim was made officially from Moscow quite recently. According to it, on May 7th, 1895, a Russian scientist, Alexander Popov, demonstrated an apparatus for the wireless transmission of messages, and described his method in a scientific journal in March, 1896. In that year, the Russians claim, Popov transmitted a telegram by wireless, the first of its kind ever transmitted.

Rival Claimants

There has never yet been a great and epoch-making invention that has not produced rival claimants, and wireless is no exception. The world has accepted Marconi as the undisputed inventor of the system and will, one may be reasonably sure, always so regard him.

Yet there is this possibility: that three scientists, working independently in Italy, Russia and England, can substantiate a claim to this scientific triumph.

Of the validity of the Russian claim nothing is yet known in this country. But one question arises: why has the claim been left unmade for more than fifty years?

What of Marconi's claim? In the early summer of 1895, he transmitted wireless messages in his father's garden, near Bologna. In 1896 he came to England, and in June took out the first patent for wireless telegraphy.

Next, under the auspices of Sir William Preece, chief engineer of the Post Office, Marconi demonstrated his method on Salisbury Plain. These epoch-making scientific marvels caused tremendous excitement and universal interest. Marconi was world famous.

But was he the first man to invent wireless? The first man to transmit wireless messages?

In October, 1895, there came from New Zealand to the famous Cavendish Laboratories, Cambridge, a brilliant young scientist, Ernest Rutherford. He came as a research student and he was already a D.Sc. of Otago University, New Zealand.

What work should he attempt? he asked the Director, the late Sir J. J. Thomson, O.M.

"Try to transmit signals without wires," suggest Thomson.

Rutherford went to work. He used a detector he had already invented in New Zealand.

Later in the same year Rutherford transmitted messages without wires from one room in the Laboratory to another. Before the year was out he transmitted messages between the Cavendish Laboratory and his lodgings, three-quarters of a mile away.

So impressed was Sir J. J. Thomson with these results that he tried to interest businessmen in their commercial development. But all those he approached were incredulous and Rutherford went on with other work. For him wireless had little further interest.

The First Message

Well, there are the facts. Marconi's first message was transmitted in the early summer of 1895. Rutherford had already invented his detector in 1894 and sent his first message in the fall of 1894. It is a close thing.

Rutherford never took out one single patent. He was indifferent to priority claims and any sort of commercialization of science. He personally presented Marconi with the gold medal of the Institute of Electrical Engineers, and paid him a handsome tribute.

This is what he said: "I may recall that in my youthful days in Cambridge I was myself interested in wireless waves, and devised, in 1896, a simple magnetic detector for these waves. I am glad to know that Marconi was able to develop and transform the germs of this simple device into a reliable detector."

And now comes Alexander Popov's claim. Strange, indeed, that modesty should have withheld it from the world for over fifty years! —George Godwin in "Tit-Bits"

Photographic Mystery Creates Sensation This picture, which appeared in the Ashland (Ky.) Daily Independent, was represented to that newspaper as an actual photograph taken in the sky over Korea. The Independent ran the picture on a Sunday and the entire edition of 14,000 copies was quickly sold out, with people clamoring for more. Two weeks later, also on a Sunday the paper ran the picture again and again the entire edition was snapped up. Readers sent clippings to friends and the Independent has been receiving hundreds of letters from all over the country. According to the information received by the paper, an Air Force man from Chicago took pictures of an American and a Communist plane during a combat patrol. He sent the films home to Chicago to be developed. To the amazement of everyone, including the flyer, the image of Christ, supposedly formed by clouds, showed up on one of the photos. A neighbor of the Air Force man's family in Chicago sent a print to his brother in Ashland. Someone there finally mailed it to the Independent. Actual origin of the picture is a mystery so far, because the names of the Air Force man and of the Chicago neighbor family are unknown.
